Technomark Life Sciences To An Host Investor Dinner
On April 1, 2009 In Oxford, UK

DURHAM (NC-USA)/ LONDON (UK), February 10, 2009

Technomark Life Sciences announced today that it will be hosting an investor-only dinner in Oxford on the eve of the BioTrinity Conference (www.biotrinity.com). This invitation-only 6 course wine and tasting dinner will give investors the opportunity to get together and network.

"We wanted to provide an exclusive gathering that would allow investors the chance to develop closer working relationships and to coordinate participation on future investments in the UK life science sector right before an investment conference," said Allen Hakimi, Managing Director of Technomark. "Given the current economic climate and the investment challenges the industry faces, it is important for investors to unite and coordinate investment efforts."

The dinner will take place at the Cherwell Boathouse restaurant in Oxford, UK. For an updated list of attendees, please visit the following website:
